Dr. Don Weaver Returns from Service

Dr. Don D. Weaver, formerly a member of the staff of the Oakland College of Medicine and in charge of the surgical clinics of the college, who has just been discharged from the United States medical corps, has returned to Oakland and opened offices in the First National Bank building.

Dr. Weaver, anxious to participate in the world war, enlisted in the medical corps of the English army in May, 1917, as a lieutenant. After serving with the British he joined the American forces as soon as he could get his release from English service. Dr. Weaver saw service both in England and France and, while abroad, sent home many interesting reports to the family of the Oakland College of Medicine on new developments in surgery brought about by war conditions.

THIS WOMAN SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

By taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, One of Thousands of Such Cases.

Black River Falls, Wis.—"As Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved me from an operation, I cannot say enough in praise of it. I suffered from organic troubles and my side hurt me so I could hardly be up from my bed, and I was unable to do my housework. I had the best doctors in Eau Claire and they wanted me to have an operation, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me so I did not need the operation, and I am telling all my friends about it." Mrs. A. W. Binzer, Black River Falls, Wis.

DEATH OF AUTO DRIVER PROBED

EL PASO, Texas, Nov. 3.—Sheriff's officers at Las Cruces were investigating today the fatal shooting of John T. Hutchings, automobile race driver, near Lanark, N. M., sixteen miles west of here, yesterday by a party of four men and four women, one of them a major in the United States army. The eight are being held at Las Cruces, N. M., on charges of murder. Major F. M. Scanland, one of the eight, declared the shooting was accidental. He said they were shooting at a target when Hutchings came along in his car in the El Paso-Phoenix road race.

When Hutchings was shot Oliver Lee, his mechanic, piloted the car with the wounded driver into Las Cruces and returned to the scene of the shooting with county officers, who made the arrests. Hutchings was driver for General Pershing during the American punitive expedition into Mexico and has been a contestant in most of the automobile races of the southwest. His home was in Alhambra, N. M.

MIKADO GARBED IN ADMIRAL TOGS REVIEWS FLEET

YOKOHAMA, Nov. 3.—Emperor Yoshito, clad in the uniform of an admiral of the Japanese navy, today for the first time reviewed the entire Japanese fleet of 110 ships and 12 auxiliaries.

Despite a mist that changed to rain, 50,000 guests viewed the spectacle from ships in the harbor and 100,000 persons lined the waterfront. The event was of unprecedented magnitude in oriental waters.

Those under arrest are Major Scanland, Harry C. Overstreet and "Chalk" Altman of El Paso and Fred Jackson of Alhambra, Texas. The women are Ethel Bennett, Mrs. Overstreet, Mrs. P. L. Holbrook and Mrs. E. M. McPherson of El Paso. Hutchings was shot through the spine and died after being brought to an El Paso hospital.

DRIVER SPEEDS AWAY FROM PROSTRATE VICTIM

A driver of a motor car sped away on San Antonio highway after knocking down James McKingh of San Francisco and leaving him helplessly prostrate in the roadway.

Two Letterman Hospital nurses, Carrie D. Higgins and Edna M. Blake, were painfully injured when the automobile in which they were riding skidded and crashed into a telephone pole at Twenty-ninth street and Tifftan avenue.

The injured nurses were taken to St. Luke's hospital.

POLICE JUDGE PLAYS GOOD SAMARITAN ROLE

Pinned under an automobile which had overturned and caught fire, Mrs. J. L. Wilson, 2211 Twenty-fifth street, was rescued yesterday by Judge Morris Oppenheim. Mrs. Wilson was at the wheel of the car as it turned from Oakdale into Railroad avenue in the Bayview district. Her husband was seated beside her in the front seat, while a party of three friends rode in the rear.

With the exception of Mrs. Wilson all were thrown into the street when the car overturned. She was held beneath the car, which started to burn.

Oppenheim witnessed the accident and extricated the woman before the flames had reached her.

VICTIM OF TRUCK ACCIDENT SUCUMB

After lingering for two weeks, 6-year-old Bruno Fontana, 1240 Sixth street, Berkeley, struck by an automobile truck in front of his home on October 22, died this morning at Roosevelt hospital. The boy was playing in the street and did not notice the approach of the truck at the time of the accident.

AUTO WRECKED IN COLLISION WITH POLE

Losing control of the steering apparatus, D. S. Smith, 2031 Santa Clara avenue, Alameda, crashed his automobile into a pole at Franklin and Seventh streets, last night. The machine was completely wrecked, Smith escaping injury.

Smith was turning off Franklin into Seventh, when the car careened and headed for the pole. Smith was thrown to the floor, as smashed glass from the windshield scattered about him.

LIVESTOCK MAN KILLED IN OMAHA

OMAHA, Nov. 3.—Philip Kellogg, one of the best known livestock commission men in South Omaha, was instantly killed when the automobile in which he was riding collided with another machine. Kellogg came to Omaha twelve years ago from Chicago, Ill., where he was connected with his father, J. W. Kellogg, now of Denver in the cattle commission business.

FOURTEEN LOSE LIVES IN PHILADELPHIA SMASH

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 3.—Fourteen members of a Hallock party, including two women, are dead as a result of a crash between a Pennsylvania railroad train and a large motor truck which was bringing 38 passengers from an evening party at Billingsport to their homes here. Twelve of the party were killed instantly, two died later in the hospital. A seventeen others, most of whom are women, are in hospitals, where the injuries to some were declared to be very serious.

GOOD AUTO TOY SAVES FIVE LIVES

GILROY, Nov. 3.—George McDonald, manager of the Harrison P. Smith Motor Car Company of San Jose; Mrs. McDonald and three guests got in serious scrapes up when their automobile capsized in a collision.

Only a Cold.

Are you ill? Is often answered, "Oh, it's only a cold," as if a cold was a matter of little consequence, but people are beginning to learn that a common cold is a matter not to be trifled with, that some of the most serious diseases start with a cold. As soon as the first indications of a cold appear, take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Remember that the sooner you get rid of your cold the less the danger, and this remedy will help you to throw it off. Osmond Bros. Drug Stores—Advertisement.

This Is Better Than Laxatives

One NR Tablet Each Night For A Week Will Correct Your Constipation and Make Constant Dosing Unnecessary. Try It.

Poor digestion and assimilation mean a poorly nourished body and low vitality. Poor elimination means clogged bowels, fermentation, putrefaction and the formation of poisonous gases which are absorbed by the blood and carried through the body. The result is weakness, headaches, dizziness, constipation, indigestion, liver, bilious attacks, loss of energy, nervousness, poor appetite, impoverished blood, sallow complexion, pimples, skin diseases, and often times serious illness.

Ordinary laxatives, purges and cathartics—salt, oil, calomel and the like—may relieve for a few hours, but their lasting benefit can only come through use of medicine that forces up and strengthens the digestive as well as the eliminative organs.

Get a 50c Remedy (NR Tablets) and take one tablet each night for a week. Relief will follow the very first dose, but a few days will elapse before you feel and realize the fullest benefit. When you get stretched out and feel just miserable again you need not take medicine every day—an occasional NR Tablet will keep your system in good condition and you will always feel your best. Remember, keeping well is easier and cheaper than getting well. Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) are sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

BLAME 'HONOR' OF SORORITY FOR TROUBLE

BERKELEY, Nov. 3.—Because her aunt says the "honor" of her sorority means more to her than the life of her mother, she did not marry that man who did not want to marry her, she said today. Esther Diggle Mileham, sophomore student at the University of California, refuses to come out of hiding to admit her marriage to Horace J. Mileham, hero of the Argonne, now in a critical condition at Moscow, Idaho. Where her niece is at the present time, Mrs. R. N. Diggle, 2541 Elm street, says she is sure that she has gone to Moscow to join her soldier husband who last week sent a bullet into his breast because his co-ed wife would not join him. Mrs. Diggle declares her niece is sane.

Blame for her niece's actions in clinging to her original story of denial of her marriage despite the admissions of her relatives is placed by the aunt upon her sorority associations. "Esther has strange ideas about the 'honor' of her sorority," declared the aunt today. "She is a girl who has been brought up to believe that the name of her sorority is more important to her than her own life. She has admitted her marriage she would have succeeded in avoiding publicity instead of court. At 1912 I have had no word from her save a telephone message that she was going home with a sorority sister. She has evidently turned to her college associates for advice rather than her relatives."

At the Alpha Gamma Delta house, 2117 Channing way, ignorance was also professed of the whereabouts of the pretty co-ed bride. No one has reached either the sorority or the Diggle home since Saturday afternoon when Miss Diggle mysteriously disappeared from sight following a consultation with an attorney in San Francisco, to which she was accompanied by sorority sisters. Further mystery was added to the disappearance of Mrs. Mileham when the fact that she was granted a three-months' leave of absence from the university late Saturday afternoon. This fact was taken by the aunt as evidence that the young woman intended to drop from sight to avoid further unpleasantness rather than of her intention to go East to join her husband. Telegrams coming to the co-ed from her mother in Salt Lake City lie unopened and unheeded at the Diggle home.

Mrs. Mileham had planned to spend the week-end with a sorority sister, Miss Madeline Nash, at Saratoga, but neither she nor Miss Nash have arrived there, according to the father of the latter young woman.

Alameda Hospital Physician Sought

ALAMEDA, Nov. 3.—As a result of the inability of Chief of Police Walter O. Jacoby, of this city to secure a physician to attend Mary Brown, age 19, residing at 1912 Eighteenth street, Oakland, at the Alameda Emergency Hospital, to where she was taken yesterday afternoon following a slight injury at a bathing beach, a movement is on foot to secure a physician to attend to the Emergency Hospital service.

Heretofore physicians have volunteered for emergency calls, no fee being provided. City Physician Arthur Hieronymus is paid for part time service, but when he is off duty there is no physician in attendance or subject to call. It is proposed to have a physician's services available at all times hereafter.

Police of Berkeley Seek Blind Tiger

BERKELEY, Nov. 3.—The Berkeley police are curious. Al Tobin, veteran visitor at the college city police station, is in again. Al was found wandering in West Berkeley much happier than reliable. With him was a half-empty bottle of good old Kentucky eye.

If there's a blind pig in Berkeley the officials want to know it. They're waiting now for Al to sober up to tell them its location.

U. C. STUDENTS AT BERKELEY ACT TOGETHER

BERKELEY, Nov. 3.—Sixty-three wounded service men now receiving vocational training at the University of California are members of an unique organization just formed on the campus under the name of the Federal Board Students' association. The association was organized as a means for the men to not only help each other but to co-operate with government agencies under whose direction they are at present taking work on the campus by providing collective action on matters of importance.

R. T. Hull was named temporary chairman while a committee on by-laws was named, consisting of the following members: J. B. McAndrew, F. H. Fairfax, D. W. Montgomery, H. W. Brune, D. E. Huggard, R. T. Hull and Winifred Bushnell. Professor H. B. Langille is resident personal counselor for all men in training at the state university.

Ex-Convict Facing Hearing on Sanity

ALAMEDA, Nov. 3.—Albert Rosales, held in detention on suspicion of burglary, will be taken to Oakland this afternoon for examination as to his mental condition by Dr. Jau Den Ball, the psychology expert. Rosales is believed to be mentally affected. He is a four-time ex-convict. Later action by the police will depend on the outcome of today's examination. He was captured by Police Officer Joseph Savina after the patrolman saw him loitering on East Central avenue late at night. Rosales fled when the police officer approached him and was found hiding under a bush after the officer had pursued him for several blocks and fired two shots at him. Rosales claimed that he ran for fear of disclosing his previous prison record if taken into custody.

Two Drunks Held in City Prison

Despite the presumption that Oakland is "arid" two male beings are held at the city prison today, charged with drunkenness. They are Edward Gonzales, 34, and Frank Standinger, 26. The former was found at Twenty-third and East Ninth streets by Patrolman A. K. Macomber. Standinger came to the city hall to be arrested. He was taken in custody in a corridor by Patrolman A. Neale.

Fall Upon Church Steps Proves Fatal

LIVERMORE, Nov. 3.—Mrs. Marian J. Burke, widow of the late John J. Burke, pioneer resident of the valley, died Sunday morning at her home near town as the result of injuries received two weeks before, when she fell on the concrete steps of St. Michael's church, and broke both of her arms and also injured her knee. The funeral arrangements have not yet been announced.

Former Berkeley City Attorney Loses Auto

BERKELEY, Nov. 3.—Earl Sinclair, former city attorney of Berkeley, left his new Buick automobile standing in front of his home, 2023 Delaware street, at 9 o'clock Saturday evening. At midnight, when he went outside to drive some guests home, he failed to find it. Sinclair has called upon the police to aid him in recovering the machine. The car is a five-passenger Buick, light brown in color, and was recently purchased by the attorney.

MAJOR SPATZ TO TALK TO AIRMEN

BERKELEY, Nov. 3.—Major Carl Spatz of western department headquarters, one of the leading transcontinental flyers in the recent race, will address the members of the Allied Flier's club at their meeting tomorrow evening in Silles hall, Allison way and Dana. He will tell them of his personal experiences on his transcontinental trip and also of the government's latest plans in regard to providing planes for the local fliers.

Dr. Benjamin Ide Wheeler and Major S. O. Johnson, president of the Berkeley post of the American Legion, will also address the fliers at this meeting. Dr. Wheeler's talk is looked forward to with great interest as it is expected that he will give his professional views as to the club's value in educating the public in regard to aeronautics. It is expected that Major Johnson will outline the plans by which the legion will help the Allied Fliers in work of education. Music will be furnished by one of the best jazz orchestras in the college city.

FINANCIER'S ASHES ARE CAST ON THE WATERS

AVAILON, Catalina Island, Nov. 3.—The ashes of W. C. Boschen, New York financier and "king of swordfishermen," float on the waters of Catalina channel today. A year ago Boschen died. Yesterday was the date he would have started his annual quest of swordfish at Catalina, had he lived. Instead, Captain George C. Farnsworth, Boschen's old fishing companion, started from the Avalon pier alone, made the circuit of the 40-mile course he and Boschen used to follow, and then, twelve miles over Catalina, he opened a lunch box and set a lunch for two.

Alameda Girl Dies After Long Illness

ALAMEDA, Nov. 3.—Miss Muriel Shepard, member of a well known Alameda family, died yesterday at her home, 3221 Briggs avenue, after a long illness. Miss Shepard was the daughter of Mrs. Fannie Shepard and the late William Shepard, and the sister of Mrs. E. J. Stone, Frank C. Harry J. Charles P. and Dr. William Shepard. The funeral will be held tomorrow.

PERSIAN RABBI'S WEIRD SONG IS KEY TO PRISON

In police court No. 1, Judge Mortimer Smith presiding, there appeared today the "Rabbi of Persia." A dignitary possessing the impressive manner of one of his station, Julius Miller claimed the signal honor of being the "Rabbi of Persia." All the rest of rabbis in California were "frauds," he said. The "rabbi" was charged with disturbing the peace. It was an awkward, not to mention unfortunate incident. Mrs. Winifred Bascom, residing at 545 Jones street, protested to the police that he was making entirely too much noise in her neighborhood. She didn't know whether it was Persian hymns that Miller sang, but they were weird and distressing to the mind.

"This is a sad blow for the Rabbi of Persia," said Miller. "Were you to know my high position and the affection and esteem with which I am held among the good people of Persia, you would relent." Just before the "rabbi's" case was called, Eugene Karamand was called before the bar to answer the charge of vagrancy. Miller interrupted to say he would employ Karamand at $15 per week. Miller is now detained in the city prison. The police will secure a lunacy complaint against him.

Superior Court Gets Two Berkeley Men

BERKELEY, Nov. 3.—Stanley Miller, confessed overcoat thief, and John King, garage bandit, were held over to the Superior court this morning by Judge Robert Edgar. Miller entered a plea of guilty to stealing a score or more overcoats from the University of California library. King's bail has been fixed at $10,000 on a charge of burglary. Both have been removed to the county jail.

Two Burglaries Are Reported in Alameda

ALAMEDA, Nov. 3.—Two alleged attempts at burglary and one room robbery were reported to the police yesterday. Mrs. M. Loupey, 1715 Park street, reported that a room in her home had been ransacked of bedding and other room furnishings stolen. Miss A. Turry, 505 Haight avenue, reported that a night prowler tried to enter the Turry home Saturday night while Miss Turry's mother was alone in the house. Mrs. C. W. Edwards reported that a screen door at the rear of the Edwards home at 453 Haight avenue was cut by some one trying to get into the house.

CROUCH DENIED HABEAS CORPUS

The application of Naval Architect Albert W. Crouch of New York for a writ of habeas corpus was denied this morning by Judge James G. Quinn. Crouch, who was in court when the decision was announced, was at once taken into custody by the New York officers, W. J. Crawford and Vincent Cashin, who have been here awaiting such a contingency for about three weeks. Crouch was arrested for desertion on complaint of his wife, a resident of Colorado. Through his attorney, George F. Witter, Crouch contended that he was not a fugitive from justice and that he could not legally be tried in California. It is possible that Attorney Witter may apply to the United States court for a writ of habeas corpus.

When Crouch was arrested, Mrs. Violet S. Deegan, with whom it is charged he came from New York to Oakland via New Orleans, where the couple made a short stay, was with him as usual. Beyond taking Crouch's arm when he left the court room Mrs. Deegan gave no sign of surprise or emotion.

Boy Disappears From Piedmont

Eighteen-year-old Thomas Merritt Carr of Santa Monica, who has been absent from his classes at St. Mary's School for Boys, Piedmont, since October 7, is being sought in the bay district by police detectives. Following the appeal from the boy's grandmother in Santa Monica, Young Carr was seized with wandering and ran away with boy companions, is the theory advanced by the police. He is five feet, high, weight 120 pounds, freckled face, he wears long pants.

BREATHOSCOPE NOW USED AS RUM DETECTOR

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Now comes the "breathoscope." Chief Revenue Agent Harry W. Mager, in charge of prohibition enforcement in New York, introduced the newest rum detector when he assembled his cohorts in a "school" for the enforcement of prohibition in the customs house here today. The "breathoscope" tests the breath—literally. Agents will be equipped with the apparatus. If customers wobble when they come from near-beer doors an agent will promptly clamp on the "breathoscope," which looks like a cross between a gas mask and an automobile speedometer, and the "breathoscope" will register the alcoholic content of the victim's exhalations.

Boy Disappears From Piedmont

Eighteen-year-old Thomas Merritt Carr of Santa Monica, who has been absent from his classes at St. Mary's School for Boys, Piedmont, since October 7, is being sought in the bay district by police detectives. Following the appeal from the boy's grandmother in Santa Monica, Young Carr was seized with wandering and ran away with boy companions, is the theory advanced by the police. He is five feet, high, weight 120 pounds, freckled face, he wears long pants.

Savings Started Local Store H. C. CAPWELL was taught as a boy to realize the advantage of saving. When an employee in various stores, and later as a traveling salesman, young Capwell saved scrupulously, being convinced that he could not expect to get ahead unless he had some savings to invest when the right opportunity occurred. Thirty years ago, with these savings, Mr. Capwell started a small store in the Hotel Crellin, at 10th and Washington, when there were few stores on that street. From the original small investment by himself, and later by his partner, the store has grown through its own earnings, and today, with a million-dollar property as a monument to the value of early savings, Mr. Capwell is convinced that his boyhood training was correct.

States, as a Christian nation, could not compete or intermingle with the Japanese race, because of its "un-Christian code of morals." He said in part:

"The two races can never mix—they should never mix, for it was the Almighty's purpose and plan that they should not," said the clergyman.

"Either feeling which loses none of its force with time is gradually being lost, or it is being lost, just as we see the richest land falling into the hands of those, who, as a rule, are far from being thoroughly American."

"We must fight with destruction," Thayer said, "and not till then, again will this country be saved."

Bringing the "menace of Bolshevism" to the very doors of America, the Rev. Dr. Kloss told his audience that there is but one antidote for this growing tendency to creep into this great States and destroy its institutions.

"The demand of the hour is a general movement," he declared. "It is time to act, if we should keep Bolshevism, I. W. Wism, the radical form of Socialism and the other un-American tendencies. The article in the Standard of this week is an excellent one."

"Our citizens cannot live 'on the wage, or make a living on the same plan as the Japanese. We must, therefore, adopt a mode of life and unnecessary economy that we deem out of harmony with Christian Civilization."

"It is not humiliating to make such a statement when the facts are known and, on the contrary, it is honorable and right."

"If the Japanese were Christians they couldn't live so cheaply. Rather they would not do so because the voice of humanity and justice would call them away from their garden-seeds and their hours of idleness and many of the dollars that they now spend on themselves selfishly."

"The national system in America must introduce a program whereby every man will be a producer. There must be no class distinction; evenness must be of the privileged class and a capitalist to his own rights."

"That the accomplishment of this does not lie in the overthrow of our democratic government and the substitution of a dictatorship of the proletariat. Bolshevism openly advocates exactly the opposite of the order we are duty bound to defend and strengthen this, instead of overthrowing it."

"He called William Foster, active leader of the recent steel strike, 'immence to civilization,' and criti-

"A great natural gulf is fixed between the Americans and the Japanese. It is a gulf for which neither race is responsible. It is the result of all those who live in the West realize its existence. There are other factors that enter into the objection of amalgamating the two races such as the public opinion, the economic and business and labor competition.

"Whenever a Christian nation with its great philanthropic program of wholehearted and universal service, is unable to compete with a self-centered, penny-hoarding, unmissionary race that has but one thought and that is to get everything and give nothing the fault is not ours."

THE STORM OF UNREST

An inveterate form of "class war," was the broad put on Rochester by Rev. Charles L. Kloss of the Plymouth Church.

THE STORM OF UNREST

"The Solid Rock in the Storm of Unrest," was the sermon of Rev. Frank M. Sibley, at the First Presbyterian Church, on Sunday.

"The only remedy for the problems of today is the real application of the principles of the Christian religion. It is not enough to say today that all we have to do is to wait awhile and the present condition will subside and settle into a illusion to think that the present storm will simply blow over. The storm today must be settled through the rise of right leadership.

"The situation in the world is complicated today by the lack of forceful public leaders. Too many statesmen today are seeking present conditions as an opportunity and at the same time exposing their own political ambition."

"They are greedy of personal privilege, rather than being hungry for true constructive leadership."

used by Harold Goette as a basis for his discourse yesterday morning as he spoke to his congregation, in the Christian Science Monitor. He said that "I should the strife, the bloodshed, the agony and the woe of the past few years, people have been made to wonder if God cares for the condition of humanity. The trouble is man's knowledge of God is so small that he cannot understand him better, and if we understood him better, we would love more than we do, and through knowledge of God we would love more than a Christian brother him with him."

"God cares for inanimate matter. The mountains were not piled up by accident, the streams of water did not determine their own courses. The trees, the flowers, the grass grew not by chance, the vegetable creation is not of spontaneous origin, the flowers put forth their leaves, and the flowers their petals and fragrance by the will of God.

"God created man to protect mankind and to extend to him happiness. God will suspend the laws of nature or introduce new laws at his pleasure. How much does he care for us? He has created our bodies with food and raiment, and has protected our lives against dangers seen and unseen. Many times nothing has been between us and death but God's omnipotent hand.

"The scripture says that God made man for himself, in order that God might glorify in him, may allow us to become affixed in order to turn our souls heavenward. Many are the afflictions of the righteous, but the Lord is with them, and he will deliver them. He has given us his only begotten Son to lead our souls back to God and

COUNTY LOSES BY NEW DELAY AT HOSPITALS

Further delay was encountered today in the board of supervisors on the matter of the rehabilitation of the tuberculosis wards at the San Leandro hospital to enable the county to collect $2 a week subsidy from the state board of health for each patient there. Bids had been called for on the specifications for the removal of the wards from the foot-hill boulevard back further toward the hills and for the installation of heat and the reconstruction of the chapel. Only one bid was submitted, that of P. W. Maurice, for $17,960, and the amount was deemed excessive. The decision on acceptance or rejection of the bid was postponed. It is feared by Superintendent of Hospitals Dr. F. G. Brock that by the time new bids can be received the rains will interfere with the completing its completion until next spring.

SUBSIDY IS LOST.

In the past the county has suffered the loss of the subsidies from the state for patients treated at San Leandro because the equipment was not up to standard specifications. Some sixty patients have been treated there, for which the subsidy could have been received, amounting to approximately $9000 a year. Recently with the completion of the new sanatorium the patients were removed there, at least most of the curable cases. Arroyo is now crowded and it is estimated that with the completion of the contemplated improvement the capacity of the San Leandro institution will be utilized, the subsidies on that account, amounting in a single year to the estimated cost of the repairs.

WORK ON MAJOR PLAN FOR REHABILITATION OF THE SAN LEANDRO HOSPITAL IS NOW UNDER WAY AND MAKING GOOD PROGRESS.

Upon the receipt of a petition signed by some 400 local owners to the supervisors, appointed C. W. Hartman to be inspector of aqueducts, a salary of $100 a year for seven months' work, the appointment is made mandatory by a law passed by the last legislature. The petitioners state that a disease known as "foul brood" has infected many of the aqueducts, destroying the eggs and the larvae and injuring the grown bees.

Charles Helm was appointed chief engineer at Arroyo in the place of George Powell, resigned.

LABOR NOTES

Twelve big athletic events featured amusement park yesterday by the county. Dancing was also indulged in. Among the speakers were William A. Spooner, secretary of the Central Labor Council; S. J. Donahue of the Metal Trades Council, and E. D. Nolan.

Decision not to accept the terms of the Pacific Coast Shipbuilding Company was reached by the laborers' union, No. 21, at a largely attended meeting held yesterday at Bay Point. The men are reported to have declined to return to work under the provision of the terms offered.

The big parade planned by shipyard workers for this morning has been postponed with no definite date set for the event. It had been planned to have 10,000 striking shipyard employees in line.

It is reported that E. D. Hart who for the last five years has been president of the Central Labor Council of Alameda county, will formally resign his office at a meeting of the council tonight. Hart resigned as secretary of the Teamsters' Union last Friday night. Five times consecutively Hart was elected overwhelmingly as president of the Central Labor Council. Hart is said to assign as the reason for giving up the two secretaries the intention to devote more time and attention to managing the Drymen's Association of Alameda county.

Dry Spell Prevents Grape Loss Weather Proves Aid to Growers

At the office of the California Grape Protective association in San Francisco they reverently gave thanks for the delayed rains and for the long marketing season for table grapes that has resulted in the harvest of an undiminished percentage of the crop. The Tokyo Imperial growers in Fresno county, the growers of table grapes in other sections of the state are congratulating themselves that the long dry spell, so far as the weather is concerned, has aided them to overcome the threatened loss on account of the other dry spell that bids fair to continue into the winter.

As the dry weather continues a few days the growers will be in the clear. But at the moment the vines are laden with grapes ready to burst with sugar and juice. If it rains the grapes will burst and ferment and get on a "sour" and their value representing a total loss. So the growers are in a respect, praying for rain to stop.

BARRED AT WINERIES.

Heretofore when it rains the grapes were dumped in the wineries under the circumstances, do not want them. There have been between 400 and 5000 car loads of grapes shipped out of the state, and but for the shortage of refrigerators the shipment would have been much heavier. Every car of wine grapes moving out of the state, in a car of table grapes had to remain on the vines.

The suffering endured by the growers moving out of the state, to the office of the protective association, has not been as heavy as

MRS. COPPAGE UNDER COLLAPSE

Breaking down under the strain of the divorce contest which she is waging against her husband, Mrs. Mary Shields Coppage was removed today from her home on Dana street, Berkeley, to a hospital, where she is being treated for a serious condition. Report of her collapse was made by her attorney, who was present in court at the continuance of the case this morning.

By halting the argument of lawyers regarding the marital difficulties of Charles Lyndon Coppage, oil investor and clubman, and Mrs. Mary Shields Coppage, Superior Judge Everett J. Brown created the inference among the attorneys today that he had reached a decision in the case.

Justice Brown said that he desired the arguments confined to the matter of property values. There is a wide discrepancy in this regard, as Stanley Moore, attorney for Mrs. Coppage, places the total at several times the figure of less than $50,000 named by Coppage.

Although in her complaint Mrs. Coppage declares that her husband's property is worth $400,000, and asked for half of it, testimony did not bear out this claim in its entirety.

Attorney Moore was reading from the record regarding the conversation between Coppage and his wife just before their separation when Justice Brown stopped him. He refused to allow the testimony to be read for both sides and outlined what he desired in the way of argument confined to property values.

Coppage has made little resistance to the testimony of his wife, except to deny some of the testimony placing the blame for their differences on his shoulders. She testified that he came to her in February, 1914, and that he was bankrupt and wanted to go away "to make a man of himself," suggesting that she get a divorce.

After Justice Brown's announcement, Attorney Moore skipped under the table and discussed Coppage's bank account, his holdings in oil stock and in the Del Monte garage and the value of property turned over to Mrs. Coppage at the time of the separation.

Mrs. Coppage's sister, Mrs. Flora Cooper, was made a party to the case today. It is said that she is the original cost in the Berkeley property involved in the settlement. She was placed on the stand and testified that she had received $23,335.32 on the properties owned by Coppage to her wife. This figure was between the claims of the Coppages.

Attorney Moore contended that the value of Coppage's properties was $400,000. He said that the lost and stolen destroyed showed $64,959 unaccounted for in withdrawal from the Crocker bank. Another check for $18,000, he said, was missing. He said that the $18,000 check was "voided" and $10,000 was owned by Coppage in the Continental Petroleum company were worth $51,000, twice the figure set by Coppage.

COCKRELL SEEKS BAIL REDUCTION

Another attempt to have the bail of David W. Cockrell, indicted on nineteen counts charging bribery for in the federal case against the recent lottery graft scandal and acquitted after a trial on one of them, reduced from $50,000 to $20,000 was made today.

M. C. Thomas, O'Connor and Thomas Bradley appeared before Judge James G. Quinn to argue the matter.

The attorneys declared the present bail was excessive and having been secured through a surety company, which is protected by cash deposited by Cockrell's friends, they asked that this sum be commuted, leaving $20,000 in bonds furnished by friends in this county on property owned by them.

Deputy District Attorney Theodore Witschen was present during the hearing, but made no argument, the matter having been gone into previously.

Judge Quinn took the matter under advisement but indicated that he was favorable to something of a decrease because of Cockrell's acquittal on one charge.

The setting of Cockrell's trial on another charge was continued to November 11. District Attorney Ezra Decoto was expected back from his vacation today, but had not reached his office at the time of the hearing. He announced prior to his departure that on his return he would decide what disposition would be made of the other cases of former Chief of Police J. H. Neidhardt, who was indicted on charges of bribery and other crimes.

O'Neill, who has not yet been brought to trial. Rumors have been plentiful that dismissals would be asked in the cases remaining.

Mother Who Slew Children Is Indifferent

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—Manifesting no indications that she is conscious of her predicament or that she is an object of solicitude for relatives and friends, Mrs. Helen L. Faust, who on Saturday afternoon killed her four-year-old son Gilbert and her seven-months-old daughter Alice, is being held under observation at the Detention hospital, she is to appear before an insanity commission Wednesday morning.

The cause of the children's death is as much a mystery as ever. An effort to find out what caused the deaths of the children's death and the contents of the stomachs are being analyzed by a city chemist.

Trust Company Sues for Minor Heirs

Suit for possession of a mortgage securing $25,000 indebtedness in favor of the four children of Mrs. Edith Maud Oren, deceased, was instituted today by the First Federal Trust Company of San Francisco in the Alameda county courts.

Mrs. Oren was the wife of Mrs. Mary Matthews, deceased, and the children inherit under both estates.

The plaintiffs' attorneys, represented by the law firm of Matthews and Gardner of the four children.

The property involved is improved, situated on Shattuck avenue between Alameda and Oxford streets in Berkeley. The defendants claiming the suit are the Bankers' Land Company, J. Newman and W. Gregg Jr., the Chase Lumber Company and others.

Woman Released On Manslaughter Charge

A woman charged with manslaughter having been released and having been acquitted of all blame by a coroner's jury, Mrs. A. L. Freitas, whose machine ran down and killed Max Blood, Oakland schoolboy, was dismissed in Police Judge George Samuels' court this morning.

Police Judge Mortimer Smith and George Samuels announced today that they had adopted the policy of granting automobile drivers accused of manslaughter their liberty on their own recognizance pending the probe of a coroner's jury. A favorable verdict in the coroner's inquest will automatically result in the dismissal of the defendant in police court in the future.

PARR TERMINAL ACTION DELAYED

Action on the application of the Parr Terminal company for extension of time in which to complete work called for in their lease of western waterfront property was again postponed by the city council this morning, and set over for consideration two weeks on the request of Commissioner of Public Works Frederick Soderberg.

The delay was granted over the dissenting votes of Mayor John L. Davis and Commissioner of Streets William J. Buecus.

Within two weeks, said Commissioner Soderberg, I expect to have information showing that these extensions are not to the advantage of the city and that the public will not be harmed by any modification of the lease. The Parr Terminal company has been asked to pay for the extensions. No doubt a modification will benefit the Parr company, but it will not benefit the taxpayers and the city.

DELAY IS OPPOSED.

When the resolution postponing action was put to a vote, Commissioner Buecus voted no and Mayor Davis stated that he could see no reason for any further delay.

Then you approve of the granting of the extension with no further investigation?" asked Commissioner Soderberg.

Ample satisfied with the recommendation of the Chamber of Commerce approving of the extensions, replied Mayor Davis.

With the entire audience rising to sing "The Star Spangled Banner," and with bowed heads joining in the Kaddish prayer which is recited for the departed, the First Hebrew Congregation called to memory the life and accomplishments of American unguine president, Franklin Roosevelt, and the country with hardship by striking.

In his sermon the pastor said that the fear of dependency, of poverty resulting from accident and unemployment is greater in the human heart than the fear of death.

"Against these fears there is an old and a new cry for insurance," he said, "not so much a cry for insurance as a cry for a guarantee. What are the fundamental rights guaranteed under life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness? Suppose a man is called happy at his work in a coal mine? Suppose in his exercise of liberty he stops work? Has every man the right to work? Has every man the equal right not to work? If every farmer should stop for a month the world would be a cemetery. Shall government send a soldier to protect the man who wants to starve? Here are conflicting theories of human rights and of the powers of government—Is there any middle ground, any brotherhood, any all we want is justice. But the way to justice—God's way, and the right way—surely is not the way of strike and lockout, of club and gun? Shall we shut out the way of brotherhood, and we must find it."

Baptists Urged to Spurn Money From Profiteers

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Baptist churches throughout the country were urged to spurn money offered by profiteers, "the meanest kind of thieves," in a statement issued by Rev. Dr. Samuel Zane Batten, secretary of social service education for the American Baptist Publication Society.

"Every Baptist church should know whether any of its members are engaged in this nefarious business of profiteering," said Dr. Batten. "The church should refuse to touch the dirty money of these people. No self-respecting church would tolerate in its fellowship a person known to be guilty of highway robbery or horse stealing, and the sin of profiteering is meaner, blacker and more sinful than either of these. The church must make the will of God very plain on this subject."

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color. These tablets wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, and prevent the accumulation of poisonous matter in one's system. If you have a pale face, yellow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headache, a listless, no good feeling, all sorts of inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results. Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. 10c and 25c.

Why Is a Headache?

Various Causes for This Common Affliction

Anemia or Bloodlessness a Very Common Cause

Pepto-Mangan Overcomes Anemia and Tends to Prevent Headaches

When one has an occasional headache it is usually due to some transient or passing cause, such as indigestion, eye-strain, over-exertion, etc. But when the headache is a frequent periodic trouble there is always some special reason for it. Among the most common of such reasons is Anemia or Bloodlessness.

This condition is not only a general ailment among girls and young women and those whose occupations or habits of life keep them in such indoor. The one important necessity in such cases is to build up the vitality and gradually get the blood and the system into a normal condition. Pepto-Mangan is an exceptionally valuable for this purpose. It increases the number and improves the quality of the red blood cells, thus giving to all parts of the body. It improves the blood, the nerves, the strength to the very center. After a short course of treatment the headaches disappear, the frequency and severity, and finally cease as it they were never there. Pepto-Mangan is a food, and it is a medicine. It is a food because it is a natural product of the body, and it is a medicine because it is a powerful blood-builder. It is a food because it is a natural product of the body, and it is a medicine because it is a powerful blood-builder. It is a food because it is a natural product of the body, and it is a medicine because it is a powerful blood-builder.

Dancers Swoon When Knife Drawn Cutting Charged to Father-in-Law

Police detectives are searching today for Louis Croselli, 4152 Telegraph avenue, who is accused of attacking his son-in-law, Arroyo, with a knife and almost causing a fatal wound while a dance was on foot at Golden West Hall, Forty-seventh street and Telegraph avenue. What led up to the attack that might have been fatal to Ferro had he not violently battled for his life is a mystery to Police inspectors Sanderson and Sheoff, who are investigating. They had an argument, the nature of which is unknown to the police.

Ferro was door-tender at the hall while the Mahogany Club was giving a dance. When the merriment was at its height, Louis Croselli appeared, slashed at Ferro and cut him on the hand and forearm. In warding off a blow with his hand, Ferro prevented Croselli from inflicting a fatal wound. The bleeding man, fell to the floor, while his father-in-law ran down the stairs out onto the street, and made good his escape to the door. Several young girls swooned.

At the sight of blood many rushed to the door. Ferro was not there. A charge of assault with a deadly weapon will be placed against Croselli, if he is captured.

Ferro was treated at the Emergency hospital. His wounds are not as serious as they appeared to be.

CRIME RECORD OF JUVENILES GROWS LARGER

Police records for October reveal an astonishing increase of crime committed by juveniles, according to Chief of Police John F. Lynch.

Approximately 300 robberies and burglaries were committed in Oakland in the past month, with a loss estimated at between $20,000 and $25,000. Of this $10,000 worth of property was recovered, according to records.

December 2nd, October also showed thirty-five checks, forged and fictitious, were issued.

Fifty arrests for felonies.

Twenty arrests, 698.

Search for fifty-five missing persons is continuing in Oakland.

Fines and forfeited bail totaled $3191 in police courts. Judge Smith's court turned in $1924, while Judge Samuels' court had a total of $1347. The two magistrates issued 145 warrants.

Police Inspector William J. Enigh, who has been studying the alarming increase of juvenile criminals, reports that three times the number of youths have been taken in custody by the police in the past three months and that the boys' cities are now searching for at least a few youths suspected in connection with highway robberies and burglaries.

Woman Who Jumped Bond Arraigned

Following the action of San Francisco authorities in taking out of her custody her small son, Fannie Grady was returned to Oakland on a charge of defaulting bond and appeared this morning before Police Judge Mortimer Smith. Her case was continued to November 7 for sentence.

BEST TRACTORS AND HALTON-DIDIERS STAY ON THE TOP RUNG BY WINNING HARD GAMES

OAKLAND PRESIDENT HEADED EAST AFTER A NEW BALL TEAM

May Effect Working Agreement With Cleveland Club and Retain Service of Guisto

By BOB SHAND

J. Cal. Ewing is speeding east today and will be gone a month. Cal's literary calls for stops at Chicago, New York, Cleveland, Springfield and way points and before he finishes his business in the east there will be a new ball team.

Ewing is going to shake up the Oaks as a Coast league club was never shaken up before. When he attends the convention of minor leagues at Springfield Nov. 11 he will be ready to trade about half his ball club and he has others on the list he will sell for cash and use the money to purchase new talent. Cal. spent exactly $10,000 for new players last season and the club finished in the second division. He is willing to go as strong as that before the 1920 season opens and he is willing to bet that the Oaks won't finish outside the first division next year.

Ewing Knows Who Sulkers Were.

There were ball players on the Oakland club last season who would have started under different auspices. These players are competent performers on the diamond, but they didn't like the environment last year. With other clubs they will play better ball and Ewing is going to do for them what he has done for others at Springfield. For obvious reasons Ewing will not give the names of the athletes who were on the list but the fans who attended the games last year can place their fingers on the men who could but wouldn't. The cash customers are going to get a brand new deal when the opening song rings next April and there will be many a well known face missing from the line-up. Some of the high salaried players who tried to get by on their reputations last year will be wearing other emblems and the boys who were playing for themselves instead of for their club will be working for other bosses.

Ewing was so sure on his ball club that he did not remain in town to see the final series against Salt Lake. He was disgusted with the actions of some of his high salaried performers and he had him away to the east to get good results out of Cleveland before he switched to Detroit and Cal. can make the deal he will be able to start off with a seasoned first sacker, Mr. Louis Guisto. Louis was only loaned to the Oaks last season but as the Indians are well fortified at first base he probably will be sent to Cleveland to play for the Indians. The minor league convention Ewing is going to vote for peace with the majors and if this is accomplished and the draft restored then Cleveland will be more than pleased to have a working agreement with the local club. There are other big league clubs that would like to have a working agreement with Oakland but Cal. wants Guisto for a pitcher and Louis is the property of the Indians.

Lefty Russell Signed by Oaks.

While Ewing is combing the eastern market for talent Secretary Herbie McFarlin is ransacking the bushes and will have a flock of youngsters on parade for Howard to look over in the spring, provided Del. comes back. McFarlin takes in a bush game every Sunday and he has several players on his list right now.

Lefty Russell, who had a brief try-out with the Oaks several five years ago will be with the club in spring training. Russell had a cup of coffee with the Brooklyn Nationals and last year played in some league in Michigan. He wanted to come home and play winter ball so the general manager sent him a ticket and a check for $100. Russell played for 1920. Russell will be a world of stuff but had a lot of south-paw habit that kept him back.

TRAPSHOOTING ASSOCIATION TO HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the American Trapshooting Association will be held at the Hotel Astor, New York, November 5 and 6, and will be continued on the 7th if occasion requires. The association is a New Jersey corporation, the stockholders will convene in Jersey City on the morning of November 6. The session will be called one hour later in New York City and the business of the association will be transacted. The purpose of the meeting is to discuss the sport of trapshooting and the various steps that should be taken to develop the sport in this country. The A. T. A. is the parent trapshooting body and the various state associations are its branches. For more than a quarter century this organization has been promoting the sport of trapshooting along from the cradle to the grave of America's finest outdoor sport.

Another step forward. This meeting will mark a new era in the history of trapshooting. The various state associations will be represented and an advisory committee will be organized. This is an entirely new departure, one that should work for the betterment of the sport. If the trapshooters or the state associations have any ideas for the betterment of the sport they now have the opportunity of speaking out in meeting. In other words, the trapshooter will for the first time have a say in the making of the rules of the sport. This is a most important step and it is expected that nearly every association will be represented. The session on the sixth will be for the board of directors and at this meeting officers will be chosen and an executive committee appointed. Upon this committee falls the responsibility of carrying out the decisions of the meeting. The meeting on the seventh day will be open to the amateur delegates.

Things to be considered. Some of the topics that will come up for discussion are:

The sending of a representative to the Olympic games in 1920.

The 1920 Grand American Handicap trapshooting tournament.

A standard lead for trapshooting.

The inclusion of a doubles trapshooting championship on the program of each state championship shoot.

Having all trapshooting tournaments managed and cashed by amateurs instead of professional shooters.

Efforts to be used in developing trapshooting in 1920.

There isn't any doubt but that these things should be discussed and there should be much discussion of a nature that should lead to a betterment of the sport.

Crystal Held To 2 Hits by Babe Hollis

By MAURY PESSANO.

In one of the best games since the opening of the Oakland TRIBUNE League, the Halton-Didders and the Crystal Laundry clubs battled nine innings with the clothiers of Alameda winning the battle by a 1 to 0 score. One of the biggest crowds to turn out and see a game on the Alameda lot for a long time saw Emerson McNally, the young right hander, who is the talk of the bushes since joining the Crystal Laundry, and Babe Hollis in a hot pitchers' battle with the edge going to the Halton-Didders twirler. Babe was in great form and allowed but two hits to the hard hitting Laundry boys, which is some pitching.

Hollis pitched a no-hit, no-run ball until the sixth inning when Alameda's sixth inning batter, Ed Holstrom, laced out the first hit-off the big right hander. Up until this time no one had been able to get a hit off Hollis. Hollis had them hitting easy pop flies to the infield. Eleven easy flies were hit out by the Laundry boys while six of them went back to the laundry. KRIEGS LOSERS IN GREAT GAME WITH SAN LEANDRO CLUB

Pitching Duel by Caldera and Killilay, and Silva's Homer Are Features.

By EDDIE MURPHY.

For the first time since they started play in the Class A division of the TRIBUNE league, the C. L. Best Tractors of San Leandro were forced to battle to the very last in their game with the J. J. Kriegs at the San Leandro ball park, yesterday afternoon. The Tractors remained at the top of the ladder by winning from the Kriegs 4 to 3, the winning run being scored in the eighth inning when "Seacup" Christensen started off with a two-bagger over Doc Silva's head in left-center, advanced on Gillespie's sacrifice and spiked the rubber when the infield of the Kriegs, playing in for an expected bunt, allowed Charley Valla's easy pop to drop back of second base for a hit.

There were many features to this game. The Kriegs pitcher, Doc Silva, pitched a no-hit, no-run ball until the sixth inning when Alameda's sixth inning batter, Ed Holstrom, laced out the first hit-off the big right hander. Loose Playing Gives Tractors Two Scores. In the sixth inning of the Tractors' game with the Kriegs, the Kriegs pitcher, Doc Silva, pitched a no-hit, no-run ball until the sixth inning when Alameda's sixth inning batter, Ed Holstrom, laced out the first hit-off the big right hander. Up until this time no one had been able to get a hit off Hollis. Hollis had them hitting easy pop flies to the infield. Eleven easy flies were hit out by the Laundry boys while six of them went back to the laundry. How About Silva and Mulachy in a Race? San Leandro baseball fans have for a long time spoken of Ed Mulachy, their star pitcher, being the fastest pitcher in the league. The Kriegs pitcher, Doc Silva, pitched a no-hit, no-run ball until the sixth inning when Alameda's sixth inning batter, Ed Holstrom, laced out the first hit-off the big right hander. Gold at Sacramento. Sacramento, Nov. 3.—Gold has been such a popular pastime in Sacramento during the past year that a movement has been started to increase the nine-hole municipal course to 18 holes. ANSWER THE CALL

During the war period, including the year now drawing toward a close, there have been enrolled as members of the American Red Cross 31,000,000 citizens—20,000,000 adults and 11,000,000 children. There have been 8,100,000 volunteer workers, who have produced 371,577,600 articles. These figures show first of all the hearty response which American citizens have made to the call for service under this organization of mercy during a period when the demands were vividly impressed upon the minds of every one. Will Americans forget the record and the value of the Red Cross, now that the need for service on the battle field and in the hospitals behind the firing lines has passed?

Surely they will not. The week beginning yesterday has been dedicated throughout the United States to the Red Cross as the third annual roll call to membership. No demand is being made now for large contributions to finance work abroad. It is only asked that every citizen become a member of the Red Cross at the regular membership fee of $1 to enable the organization to carry on its home service. There is much work at home that needs to be continued.

The Red Cross has made the world healthier and happier. It must continue to do so. Much of the hope of the people for the relief of suffering and distress is centered in the Red Cross. It has justified every hope in the past and, with the continued support of the people, even in the modest way asked, it will continue to do so.

Join the Red Cross now and thereby signify your intention and gain the privilege to help the organization to continue its service to humanity for another year. The Roll Call lasts only one week. Perform your duty early.

GERMAN OPERAS

After riotous demonstrations and court proceedings a New York company which proposed to give a repertoire of German opera, in the German language, has abandoned its plans. Had the promoters of this effort possessed a common sense conception of the times and circumstances a disagreeable episode would have been avoided. They would not have attempted to inflict German opera upon the New York public.

As one of the attorneys in the court proceedings to enjoin the production said, there is in ordinary circumstances nothing inherently wrong or illegal in the mere act of producing German opera. It is the existing conditions, the particular occasion, which at any time must be the controlling elements in determining whether an act passes from the realm of lawfulness into the realm of invasion of public rights. In this particular case the act became a public nuisance, inciting disorder and menacing the public safety.

It is also interesting to enquire into the reason of this effect of German opera upon the public mind, an enquiry which the New York promoters would have done well to have pursued. It is not because the music and the vocal effect of the opera is offensive to the public ear and sight. It is not because the public taste in opera has undergone a change. But it is due to the moral obloquy which German opera carried for itself during the war.

German opera was made a part of the German propaganda campaign to win the sympathy of this country. So very many of our organizations and social organizations, and the most distinguished German musicians in the country, Karl Muck, was in the city, and the good cause. Loyal Americans were so conditioned that they cannot soon forget, especially not before peace is formally declared.

Producers of opera must be understood now that some well known and popular German operas will never be given in this country, which envision the old Prussian wars and glory German military heroes and typically German passions. There will always have a tendency to revive resentment against the Hun of Kaiser Wilhelm's closing imperial days. Not only is it indelicate taste to produce them now, but it is decidedly dangerous.

SHOULD ACT ON RAILROADS

Senator Cummins of Iowa, chairman of the Senate interstate commerce committee, has served notice on Congress that if it expects to enjoy any lapse from duty between the end of the present special session and the beginning of the regular session on the first Monday in December it will have to fight for it. He declares that it would be a national disaster for Congress to desert its post before passing the necessary acts to provide for the future of the railroads. He and his colleagues on the interstate commerce committee are determined to oppose any effort at a recess until the railroads measures are disposed of.

The country will hope until the last minute that Senator Cummins will prevail in his plan to compel early action by the present session of Congress. The railroad control bill has been introduced in the Senate but it has not been possible to begin its consideration because of the monopolization of the Senate's time by the peace treaty. Senate leaders now predict that the peace treaty will be out of the way by November 12. It will be easy to close discussion of the peace treaty, providing the obstructionists who have uselessly delayed action for five months are not irreconcilable and persist in filibustering tactics. But one cannot tell to what length the treaty opponents will go to gratify their lust for personal exploitation.

But there is no more important matter demanding the consideration of Congress than the proposed acts to terminate government operations of the railroads and provide for their regulation under operation by their private owners. It is one of the plain duties of Congress to enact the necessary legislation at the present session, and one that was as patent six months ago as it is today.

But so much time has been consumed in hearings that it is a question whether sufficient time now remains to dispose of the railroad bill before the special session is forced to adjourn. Senator Cummins will find that some features of the commerce committee's draft bill will be seriously opposed. Prolonged debate is inevitable. One provision of the bill is almost certain to be revised. This is the clause which limits the rate of net earnings of the railroad corporations—a plan which if put into effect will kill initiative for economical operation and new building.

Inasmuch as it is provided that the rates shall be fixed by a government bureau—the Interstate Commerce Commission—and that financial operations of the corporations shall be likewise supervised by the government the idea of limiting earnings under an additional provision would seem to be unnecessary. If the Interstate Commerce Commission efficiently performs its duty to regulate traffic rates on the basis of operating expenses and the requisites of needful extension of facilities, it will limit earnings as a matter of fact.

Senator Cummins goes much further in his proposal, however. He would take earnings over a certain percentage on capital invested from the strong and efficiently operated roads and reduce them to the same condition of apathy and inertia that so often characterizes railroads operated at a loss. The idea is bad economically and morally. It would inflict the railroad systems of the country with all the enervating evils of government operation without government responsibility for the failures.

As soon as the peace treaty is out of the way the railroad bill will be taken up to the exclusion of all other business. But how long will the peace treaty stand in the way of the settlement of this vital domestic problem? If the railroad bill is carried over into the regular session of Congress it will be well nigh impossible to dispose of it before the first of the year, the date upon which the roads are scheduled to be returned to their owners.

California has the distinction of having acquired the first tract of land in the country for settlement under the scheme to send soldiers who fought in the war to the States. The State land act passed by the Legislature. The land involved is favorable located, of average fertility and under irrigation. It is productive of a variety of fruits and farm products. With proper regulation and assistance, the soldiers who take up homes ought to succeed. The biggest assets they can take to their new home is honest desire to be a successful farmer and a knowledge that industry and application to the job is constantly required.

California has ratified the suffrage amendment to the federal Constitution. Having performed her duty to her own women citizens many years ago, she has not hesitated to seize the opportunity to aid the women of other States by joining the ranks of the States which have approved the constitutional amendment. It appears from the statements of the respective governors that nearly all of the States of the Western States will have ratified the amendment by next June. It therefore becomes the suffrage workers to induce the more reactionary States of the South and East to do their duty.

NOTES and COMMENT

An account from Berkeley is to the effect that the Virginia reel is to take the place of the shimmy dance at a school function. The Virginia reel was danced by several generations of pretty nimble Americans, who found fun in it, and if it is coming back the present generation may find that the modern effort to find a new and superior kick is entirely unnecessary and likely to be futile.

The milk question seems to be growing tighter and tighter. This side of the bay threatens to abrogate the gentleman's agreement as to inspection if the other side permits outside pasteurization. The inwardness of this complication may not be understood by the consumer, but he is likely to feel that it is not going to fetch down the price the least little bit.

Redding Searchlight on the charge that it was a frame-up: "Mexico would make it appear that the United States kidnapped Jennings, asked a ransom for him, paid it and then looked around for more excitement."

"Gompers sees grave menace in coal strike injunction." The trouble will come in disobeying the injunction. Defiance of constituted authority always makes trouble. When it ceases to do that there will be a still worse situation.

When we see fine live stock on display at the show we cannot help marveling at the wonderful success that has awarded man's efforts in improving it. And the wonder will persist whether he will turn his attention to his own race after he gets the dumb animals on the highest plane possible.

After all, it is restful to turn from the acrimonious denunciations of opposing candidates, pictures accompanying, to the elaborate descriptions of prize-winning steers, pictures also accompanying, as we have been able to do in some contemporary newspapers of the week.

When we stand in the streets and strike disturbances, as we often do, such detail as that "innocent bystander receives fractured skull and broken ribs," we may be led to wonder why the innocent bystander persists in standing so near trouble.

The House was unanimous in its vote pledging support to the administration in the present emergency. This of itself would indicate the seriousness of the situation. Can anybody recall when the House was unanimous on any other subject?

If Senator Lodge's plan is followed—to finally vote on the peace pact November 12—it will be just a year and a day from the signing of the armistice. The opinion is unanimous that this has been too long. The nations have lain idly on their ears till many untoward things have happened.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

C. O. Dunbar, of Santa Rosa, has just returned from Washington, D. C., where he represented the first-class postmasters of California before a Joint Congressional Committee. He says of former Secretary of the Treasury and Railroad Administrator William B. McAdoo, whom he met and talked with, "He is the leading Democratic candidate for the presidential nomination next year, and there is little doubt in my mind that the party will tender him the nomination almost unanimously when the convention meets."—Napa Register.

There is always trouble in the world of one kind and another about property. The school boards seem to have enough school matters to go around, but no place to keep them when they are not at work. Farmers' families who formerly accommodated them have moved to town, their ranches being cared for by tenants. "Teacherages," tiny apartments added to the school houses, are being considered and in the meantime "boarded round," that came of the city teachers, must come back and add still further to the security of pedagogue.—Stockton Record.

There is but one bona occupant of the local jail. Three Mexicans were released yesterday upon completion of a ninety-day sentence. The bona occupant is one McMillan, released six days ago, for ninety-day and five days for insolence toward the court.—Woodland Mail.

It is a law of evolution that certain types persist immutable, while others go on. Thus the frog of today may not differ notably from the predecessor which hopped the Jurassic bogs, when the dinosaur was king, though measures are being taken to preserve the type. The progress of the race is not a matter of degrees, but from one to another, but from one to another, the standard type is changed.—Fresno Republican.

"IN CALIFORNIA WE DUPLICATE THE BEST"

NOVA SCOTIA TO ARGENTINA

"Amazing as are the recent flights of aeroplanes across the Atlantic, aviators must fly farther and do it more frequently to warrant a literal appellation of 'bird men,'" says a bulletin of the National Geographic Society which calls attention to the golden plover which summers in the Arctic and winters in Argentina. The bulletin, based on a communication from a naturalist, describes the perennial aerial tour of "our greatest traveler" as follows: "This species nests along the Arctic coast of North America, and as soon as the young are old enough to care for themselves fall migration is begun by a trip to the Labrador coast, where the plover fattens for several weeks on the abundant native fruits. A short trip across the Gulf of St. Lawrence brings it to Nova Scotia, the starting point for the extraordinary ocean flight, due south to the coast of South America. The golden plover takes a straight course across the ocean, and if the weather is propitious, makes the whole 2400 miles without pause or rest. But if tempests arise, it may be blown out of its course to the New England coast and start anew on the advent of fair weather; or it may rest for a few days at the Bermudas, one-third of the way along its course, or at the nearest of the lesser Antilles, still 600 miles from the mainland of South America. These, however, are emergency stop-overs, to be resorted to only in case of storms. Having accomplished its ocean voyage, it passes across eastern South America to its winter home in Argentina. "After a six months' vacation here the plover finds its way back to the Arctic by an entirely different route. It travels across northwestern South America and the Gulf of Mexico, reaching the United States along the coast of Louisiana and Texas. Thence it moves slowly up the Mississippi valley and by early June is again at the nesting site on the Arctic coast. Its round trip has taken the form of an enormous ellipse, with a minor axis of 2000 miles and a major axis stretching 5000 miles from Arctic America to Argentina."

THANKSGIVING THOUGHTS.

A Thanksgiving service to the gods for providing the breakdown of China came on the 21st, and thus saving the back of Hankow from inundation, was given by the gentry on the spot which was endangered. It took the form of theatricals and lasted for three days. Great crowds of people were coming back in the small boat when a upset at the Hankow bridge, and seven of them were drowned. About probably the day broken and no theatricals been held these people would have escaped a watery grave. Strange are the ways of the gods!—Native Press.

HEALTH and HAPPINESS

Sprained Muscles—What You Should Know About Them
By DR. LEONARD K. HIRSBERG.
A. B., M. A., M. D.
(Johns Hopkins University.)

Have you ever had a sprained wrist or a twisted ankle? You are a rare "duck" if you have not.

All such injuries should be bathed in hot water for twenty-four hours and the affected joint manipulated and massaged. Grift your teeth and be philosophic. The minor pains and aches can thus better be ignored as you keep the sort part in action. The fallacy that you should rest and keep a sprained limb quiet is as bad for you as it is for the casualty insurance companies. If kept long at rest, you may lose the use of an injured ankle or other joint. Adhesions and stiffness may result in permanent disability even from a slight injury. The swelling, due to fluid blood and lymph in the ligaments, can be reduced by a light bandage between the periods of massage and use.

If there is a fractured bone mixed with the sprain an X-ray will show it. It is false economy to refuse to use the X-ray until it is too late. Swollen, red, painful, hot joints may be the result of various microbes. The germs of tonsillitis, sore throat, scarlatina, tuberculosis, bronchitis and pneumonia are often the sources.

The affected limbs may be immersed in running hot water or placed in a bake oven made for the purpose with dry heat up to 400 degrees. Massage is more successful and efficient after the "baking" of a leg or an arm.

Massage is easily done if pain is avoided. There is no need of pain. Gentle strokes until all suspicion of pain is gone should be continued before percussion, pinching and kneading are carried out.

Liniments, butters and oils have no "food value" or curative value, but they should be employed to ease the movements and lessen the friction.

Wasted muscles, thin and paralyzed limbs can be improved by exercises which develop and re-educate the parts. For the leg muscles tiptoe exercises, twelve up and down movements at a time are beneficial. After a rest this exercise should be repeated with the knees bent in a squatting posture. The wall-climbing exercise is helpful to a troublesome shoulder joint.

Irrespective of the degree and extent of muscle wasting the buzzing, electric battery, with a faradic current, the sort called "a medical battery," does perhaps more good than anything else.

RED CROSS ARMY OPENS THIRD ROLL CALL

1200 WOMEN COMB OAKLAND FOR RECRUITS

Merchants, Theater Managers and Other Business Men
Give Aid in Campaign to Build National Organization

With "Americanism" the slogan of the third Red Cross roll call today is witnessing the beginning of a nine-day drive which will make a record for that part of Alameda county which comes under the jurisdiction of Oakland chapter. Every commercial firm in the downtown district has given a window this week to a Red Cross display, making an urgent appeal to every man and woman to contribute the dollar which will enroll them in the great organization of 15,000,000 in the United States pledged to carry forward the program of reconstruction which is deemed necessary to the return to normal conditions. Every motion picture house is "doing its bit" by giving screen place to Red Cross films and announcements. More than 5000 private letters have gone forward to industrial and commercial houses presenting the work of the American Red Cross and urging assistance in registering its employees to a participation in the national undertaking.

Red Cross workers this morning took possession of the downtown section, making it convenient for the business world to enroll in the annual membership drive. The Hut at Fourteenth street and Broadway became the center for the municipal forces with booths scattered at the centers of population. Red Cross membership tables are found at the Hotel Oakland and Harrison, the Oakland postoffice, Ebell club house, Y. W. C. A. and the following firms: Smith Bros., Bowman Drug Co., Owl Drug Co., Jones Bros., Gervin's, Jackson Furniture Co., Pacific Gas and Electric Co., Federal Drug Co., Goldberg, Bowen Co., Kahn Bros.

More than 1200 women this morning began the house to house precinct canvass which will explain in person to the people of Oakland and the eastern end of Alameda county the scope and work of the American Red Cross. November 11 will conclude the same time Armistice Day. The full quota for Oakland chapter is 10,000 members. Arthur P. Kaubach, chairman of the local campaign committee, is confident that the registration will be met, if not exceeded.

Churches throughout Oakland, San Lorenzo, Hayward, Alameda, Livermore, Pleasanton, Berkeley and in the rural districts of Alameda county observed Red Cross day yesterday with special services. At 2 p. m. Mrs. Durant in PLANE AIDS. A shower of Red Crosses hit Oakland this afternoon, flung from the hands of Mrs. Clifford Durant, the beautiful society woman, who made the flight over the city in an airplane in the interests of the third annual Red Cross roll call. Mrs. Durant began her flight at 2 p. m. from Durant field at the foot of Eighty-second avenue. The court-

Stephens Asks All to Assist the Red Cross

The following proclamation has been issued by Governor William D. Stephens:

During the period between November 2d and 11th, the Red Cross is to carry on a drive to increase its membership. The work of the Red Cross has been so well known to all of us during the recent world war that I feel I need not dwell upon its inestimable value.

Every citizen of our state should feel proud to be on the same list with those whose efforts, through this splendid organization, helped our boys so materially during the war. Many a khaki-clad American had good reason to bless the Red Cross and they will appreciate the service of those who lend time and effort to its continuous welfare.

I urge upon each and every citizen of the state the desirability of enrolling in the Red Cross and thus materially assist this splendid organization in its reconstruction work.

WM. D. STEPHENS, Governor.

ageous young Red Cross worker circled about the city and its suburbs which are within the jurisdiction of Oakland chapter.

Mrs. Durant has promised a second flight in the airplane tomorrow, repeating the spectacular feature of Red Cross week.

The Coos Bay company with offices in the Syndicate building was the first firm in Oakland to register a 100 per cent enrollment in the Red Cross drive. Before 9 a. m. the representative of the firm reported at Red Cross headquarters, 557 Twelfth street, eager to head the hundreds of business houses which are putting their seal of approval upon the national patriotic society by contributing their year's membership. The response was made in answer to letters mailed late on Saturday night.

ALAMEDA ROLL CALL BEGINS. ALAMEDA, Nov. 3.—The 1920 Red Cross membership drive started yesterday in this city, with announcements in the churches and other preliminary work. The field workers took up the house to house canvassing this morning. It is expected that Alameda will secure renewals of membership and new members aggregating between 6000 and 7000. Judge Elmer E. Johnson is in charge of the drive.

Refuses to Explain Cause for Shooting

No explanation is given by Edward Goncalves for firing two shots from a revolver at an early hour this morning at Twenty-third and East Ninth. A few seconds after the explosions, Patrolman A. H. Macomber arrested Goncalves, charging him with carrying a concealed weapon.

Goncalves was taken to police headquarters, but would not say why he had fired the shots. The theory that the man had an altercation with an unidentified party and Goncalves fired the shots at the party is being investigated.

CLIFF DURANT PLANS FLIGHT OVER PACIFIC

Oakland Racing Man Announces His Intention of Entering in Round-the-World Derby to Be Held in July

Cliff Durant, local automobile racer and aviator, is to be one of the entrants in the around-the-world derby next July, he announced today. It is also probable that others attached to the Durant Aircraft corporation will take part in the flight across the Pacific. J. B. Struble, Oakland millionaire, who is constructing a big hydroplane at the plant in Union Gas Engine company, may also consider a two-passenger each way across the Pacific from Alaska to Japan, it is reported. The derby commission has offered $1000 for each passenger one way.

Major Charles J. Glidden, executive secretary of the around-the-world derby commission, and Sidney E. Veit, honorary secretary of the foreign service committee of the Aero club of America, who inspected the Durant aviation field Saturday afternoon and toured the industrial and residential districts of Oakland and Berkeley in company with members of the aviation committee of the Chamber of Commerce, were loud in their praise of this city and predicted for the entire Eastbay region a great future. Each visitor pronounced this the finest climate he had ever seen.

Veit intends to spend some time in the bay region. He accompanied the derby commission across the continent, but will not proceed across the Pacific.

The commission organizing the first aerial derby around the world sailed today on the steamer Siberia Maru for Yokohama, following a three days' stay in the bay cities. The members of the committee of the Chamber of Commerce, Commanders Louis D. Beaumont, chairman; Major Charles J. Glidden, executive secretary; and Benjamin Hillman, member, the other notables who accompanied them to the coast having departed yesterday or today for their homes in the East, with the exception of Sidney P. Veit, honorary secretary.

Others who accompanied the commission here were P. H. Hawley, president of the Aero club of America; Henry Woodhouse, vice-president of the Aerial league of America; and William G. Sharkey, former U. S. ambassador to France. The commission will omit Hawaii on the trans-Pacific voyage. It will visit Yokohama, Korea, Hongkong and other Chinese points, Singapore and India and will go to continental Europe by way of the Red Sea. Selection of sites and officials for the derby are being left to local committees. It was announced. Among those who will receive the commission in Belgium will be King Albert.

Gas Offensive Against Squirrels to Begin Dec. 1st

Fred Seulberger, county horticultural commissioner, who has been directing the squirrel extermination campaign in the Livermore district, announced this morning that the winter campaign against squirrels will begin December 1, at which time gas will be used instead of poisoned grain. The campaign will be pushed through the winter, Seulberger says. Thousands of squirrels have already been slain and the county horticultural commissioner expresses the belief that the destruction of the rodents will result in a saving to farmers and stockmen of hundreds of thousands of dollars.

By December the squirrel eradicator will have used twenty tons of poisoned grain in their fight on the pests, Seulberger says.

TAKES WHISKY FROM CELLAR OF OWN HOME

Lawrence Griffith loathed the sight of two cases of fine whiskey, lying untouched in the basement of his mother's home, Mrs. A. Griffith, 377 Day View avenue. The thought put him to action last night. He hired E. C. Wallace, chauffeur for the city Acme Taxi Company, and had Wallace back up to the cellar door while his mother was away. But before instructions were given to load up Griffith sampled the wet stuff. It was good—so good that he sampled it again and again several times more.

According to Chauffeur Wallace when Griffith was ready to get out with the contraband goods Griffith was commenting on the flying frogs, the horses with wings and other things. To the Hotel Oakland they went on some mysterious mission. An argument ensued between Wallace and his fare and Griffith flatly refused to pay $11 taxi hire. Wallace was remonstrating when Police Inspectors Alex Sheffo and George Sanderson drove up.

Griffith was given lodging for the night in the city prison, the investigation was started to determine whether or not to charge Griffith with burglary.

Promises to Leave if Granted Freedom

Edward O'Brien in Police Judge Mortimer Smith's court was charged with vagrancy. O'Brien put up an earnest plea, which gained results. "I will sentence you to six months in the city prison and withhold the commitment," Judge Smith addressed the defendant. "If you ever appear again in this court you will go to the jail for that period."

"You won't, judge," promised O'Brien at the door of the court room.

PAST FAME NOW FAILS W. F. HERRON

Former Leland Stanford Poet is Held by the Los Angeles Police for Issuing Checks Without Funds in the Bank

Learning by bitter experience how tender a plant is fame, William F. Herron, whose genius one time flashed like a meteor across the Stanford University sky, is languishing in the custody of the Los Angeles authorities until they can decide what to do to him on a charge of issuing checks without sufficient funds in bank.

That he had been author of the startling poem "Bathsheba," which turned the Cardinal campus into a babel of criticism and defense when it appeared in the college magazine; that much of the West hailed him thereafter as a literary find and looked with complacency upon his college elopement, his subsequent dismissal from the university and his failure to get into the State University at Berkeley; that he has been an attorney of recognized ability since then in San Francisco, none of these facts stirred the frigid blood of the southern police. They arrested him just the same.

Herron's annoyance at his arrest was not mollified when he found that he would be prosecuted by an old classmate, now Deputy District Attorney Hill of Los Angeles. Herron's friends believe, however, the charge against him will not prove serious.

"Bathsheba" was read by Herron first at a notable Stanford stag party. Its substance and manner became noised about the campus, so that protests from the women students preceded its publication in the Sequoia. Published it was, however, and ousted Herron was soon afterward by the Stanford dons. The words of appreciation he had had from the late Professor Henry Morse Stephens and Professor Charles Mills Gayley of the University of California were no protection.

Before he left the Palo Alto institution, however, Herron managed to get away with a Stanford maid for an elopement. Writing as Stella Herron, his wife since developed a considerable literary reputation, but Herron himself, intrigued by the law, abandoned the belle letters route to fame.

Judge Robinson is Ill With Pneumonia

Superior Judge Edward C. Robinson was taken suddenly ill on Saturday night and later his sickness was diagnosed as pneumonia. This morning his condition was very serious. Judge Robinson has been for many years a resident of Oakland and recently celebrated the thirtieth anniversary of his marriage.

PRETTY GIRLS STRANGELY DISAPPEAR

Oakland Police Are Aiding in the Search for Marjorie Seawell of Healdsburg and Phyllis Wagner of Berkeley

The Oakland police are today investigating possible clues that may lead to locating two beautiful girls, age 14 and 20, who have mysteriously disappeared. Marjorie Seawell, 14, of Healdsburg, has not been heard from since Saturday afternoon, when she was last seen in front of a department store on Market street, San Francisco. Miss Seawell was en route to Oakland with her mother from Healdsburg. The mother boarded a Market street car for the ferry, thinking Marjorie would follow. The girl did not board the car and her mother beckoned to take the next car. At the ferry the mother waited for an hour, but none of the cars that followed carried her daughter. The mother of 20-year-old Phyllis Wagner, 1827 Arch street, Berkeley, is almost prostrated with grief, following her daughter's absence since early Sunday afternoon.

Deed and Divorce Figure in Hearing

The case of A. B. Jacobson against his wife, Marie, also known as Mrs. Marie Gottschalk, was on trial before Judge Dudley Kinsell this morning. Jacobson's suit is to recover possession of a deed to the ten-room house at 2116 Ninth avenue, which his wife obtained and had recorded. He claimed the deed was not to be recorded until after his death. He has also filed suits against his wife, one for the recovery of personal property valued at $2000 and the other for divorce.

MATERIALS FOR MANUFACTURE NEEDED IN U.S.

Demand in the United States for manufacturing materials has increased 200% in the principal causes of the large increase in importations. The trade figures for the nine months ending with September, says a statement by the National City Bank of New York, indicate that the total value of our imports in the calendar year 1919 may reach $2,000,000,000, as compared with $1,000,000,000 in 1918. Practically all of this increase occurs in manufacturing materials. The value of raw materials shows a falling off of about $75,000,000, while manufacturing materials have increased by approximately $1,925,000,000. The principal manufacturing materials showing increases, while sugar, cotton, rubber, hides and skins, are the principal foodstuffs showing increases. Cotton, sugar and hides show reductions. Manufacturers of fibers, cotton and wool also show marked decreases.

GOVERNOR WILL TRY TO END
SHIP STRIKE

State efforts to conclude the tie-up in the shipyard situation about the bay are progressing by the Senate action Saturday in adopting a resolution, introduced by Senator A. P. Anderson of this city, calling for the appointment of an investigating committee. Whether the form in which the resolution was adopted will permit the governor to name such a committee is in doubt, but as an alternative Governor William D. Stephens has promised Senator Anderson to take what steps he can beyond the senatorial authorization.

Owing to the limited time available in the special session of the legislature, which was called to approve the national suffrage amendment, Senator Anderson was unable to secure concurrent approval of his resolution by the assembly. This, as Governor Stephens explained to the author of the resolution, might limit the executive in carrying its provisions into effect.

Senator Anderson's resolution calls upon the governor to appoint a committee of five members of the Senate to investigate the shipyard strike in an effort to bring employers and employees together and secure a resumption of operations on equitable terms.

The governor told me when I canvassed the situation with him, said Senator Anderson today, "that if the resolution was not legislative, that is, did not involve the making of an appropriation, it would be possible for him to proceed with the appointment of such a committee. He did not see, however, how he could appoint it without concurrent resolution if it was legislative."

"I pointed out to him that it was very likely a committee of five senators could without difficulty be found who would be willing without compensation to make such an investigation. The service that might be rendered in ending an intolerable industrial situation would be sufficient incentive to him."

Further Investigation Into
C. M. Freeman's Death
Is Urged

C. MARTIN FREEMAN.

Although relatives of the dead man expressed themselves as loath to take the official decision and demand further investigation, today that C. Martin Freeman, who came home after fighting in France to join the girl he wed just before going to war, was a suicide from asphyxiation by hydrogen gas at his home, 574 Fifth-street.

Principal among facts that his brother, H. L. Freeman, 1145 Fifth-street, pointed to as peculiar, was that although the dead man was known to have received a pay check for $75 on Friday, there were only twenty-eight cents in his pocket when the body was found.

It is the theory of the police that Freeman killed himself as a result of a quarrel with his bride. This story is borne out by the wife's father, W. L. Snowden, who said that he moved from the house Saturday because of trouble between the couple.

Another theory presented by Mrs. George Wright, a woman living in the same house with the Freemans, was that the man had been in ill health since his release from the army. Riding caissons over the shell craters of No Man's Land was said to have resulted in internal troubles.

FREEMAN VERY QUIET
"He was so very quiet," said Mrs. Wright. "I did not hear them quarrel once. They seemed very happy. But on Thursday night when he came home from work, loaded down with bundles, his wife wasn't there. It must be loneliness when your wife's away," I told him. "No," he said, "it's all right. She didn't come home that night and then Saturday night she didn't come at all. Friday night she was home, though."

Saturday noon I saw her helping her father out with the trunk. The father said he wanted to get a place nearer his work. He is a rhotorman. She went away with him. Freeman came home alone Saturday night rather early."

The body was found by the father-in-law, Snowden, yesterday morning. Gas jets had been turned on.

DUTCH-JAPANESE
CLASH FORECAST

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—Seeds of a possible conflict of interest between Holland and Japan is seen by J. C. Van Oord, sugar planter of Java, in the Dutch East Indies investigation of alleged Japanese espionage there. Van Oord is here from the Orient now on business.

Plans of Batavia, Soerabaya and other East Indian ports have been found, he says, in the possession of Japanese army officers, posing as merchants. Japanese have attempted propaganda, but failed. Their only success was in Sumatra, but this was on a small scale and but momentary. Acquisition of the Dutch East Indies by Japan is alleged to have been urged in newspapers circulated in the colony. The colonial government has expressed a sentiment adverse to the sale of lands to Japanese. Van Oord is to go from here to Chicago to purchase machinery for his plantations, and then to Holland.

Linen Supply Head
Ends Life With Gas

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—Thos. J. Carey, president of the Pacific Coast Linen Supply Co., well known in the laundry business in San Francisco and formerly interested in laundries in Butte and Great Falls, Mont., was found asphyxiated in his apartment here. The gas jet was turned on and over his head was an automobile robe. According to his wife he had been despondent over business matters, but without reason. He is also survived by a brother in Billings, Mont., and a brother and four sisters in Roseburg, Ore. He was born at Woodburn, Ore.

U. S. FORCED INTO WAR BY BRITISH LOSS

BERLIN, Saturday, Nov. 1.—The fear that Great Britain would lose the war when the unrestricted submarine campaign became menacing was the cause of America's entry into the war, Count Adam Tarnowski is quoted as having declared in his speech from the United States in the spring of 1917. The quotation appears in a statement made by Prince Rother von Wedel, former German ambassador at Vienna, who saw Count Tarnowski on his return to Vienna after he had been sent to the United States early in 1917 as Austro-Hungarian ambassador, but was not received by the Washington government and was sent home when relations with Austria were broken early in April of that year.

Count Tarnowski told me upon his return to Vienna," said Prince von Wedel in his statement, "that the Americans at first were inclined to smile at the unrestricted U-boat warfare. They generally ridiculed the German navy which hoped to

It is admitted by Falvey, according to the Livermore officers who investigated, that Labouret, first warned them and then fired three times over their heads. Thinking he was bluffing the boys refused to leave, and the injuring of Falvey followed.

Application for a warrant for Labouret's arrest was made to Justice of the Peace G. S. Fitzgerald, who referred it to District Attorney Ezra W. Decoto. Deputy District Attorney Frank Shay is investigating.

Lad Forges Checks to Have Good Time
Because he wanted to show his boy chums a "good time," Clarence Baxter, 15, 2819 Linden street, signed his name to fictitious checks and obtained $70 for his penmanship, according to the boy's admissions to the police. Police Detective Peter Van Houtte investigated young Baxter and found he had duped several large Oakland department stores, where he bought small amounts and received the balance in change. All the checks were made out in the names of neighbors, whom he knew to have accounts in the Bank of Italy. Baxter will be turned over to juvenile authorities who will make dispensation of his case.

FERRY BOAT AND SCHOONER
GRAZE IN FOG

In the dense fog that covered the bay this morning the Key Route ferryboat Forward brushed the steam schooner Madrona near Goat Island, shortly before 8 o'clock this morning, but the two vessels at once eased off and no damage was done.

According to bay experts in meteorology, the fog was the densest of Saturday's nor-wester, and is usually to be expected after such winds at this time of year. Its density caused extra precautions in bay traffic during the early morning, but it had lifted by 10 o'clock.

TWO STEAMERS COLLIDE
The steamers, Celia and Daisy Putnam, met in a heavy fog today off the Heads. Neither was seriously damaged. The Daisy Putnam continued toward Gray's Harbor and the Celia made port here. The Celia is lumber laden from Coos Bay.

WHY BREAD
PRICES HAVE INCREASED

Since the signing of the Armistice in November, 1918, only a year ago, the bakers of first quality bread have been compelled to absorb the following average increases:

Flour	20% increase in cost
Wages	42% increase in cost
Other Items	25% increase in cost

As no reduction appeared in prospect a nominal increase in the price of first quality bread become imperative
